

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

PUBLISHER'S NOTES.

Back numbers.—It would assist us greatly and save a deal of trouble if those ordering back numbers of the SEMI-ANNUAL, would not write for copies of the best edition of Jan. '89 and Jan. '90. We cannot furnish these two numbers in the best edition as our stock is completely exhausted; but we still have them in the popular edition at the regular price of 25c. per copy.

Our advertisers.—They are reliable. Of the old ones it is not necessary to speak as you have probably all had dealings with them and found them not wanting. It is of the new ones we wish to speak. We have had many of Mr. Babbitt's specimens and have always found them strictly first-class and true to name. You should at least send in your name for his monthly price-list as you will certainly not lose by so doing.

Of the Acme Folding Boat we cannot speak too highly. We have had one of their 12 ft. boats some time and consider it the best folding canvas boat on the market. For compactness, lightness and durability it has no equal. It is also very speedy and has a fine model.

Proposed new works.—Mr. J. W. Jacobs informs us that the "Owl" will be completely changed on its reappearance Jan. 1, 1890. He proposes to make it a 12 page monthly with cover, size of page 10x7 1-2 in. It will be printed on good, heavy paper and the subscription price 75 cents a year.

Mr. I. C. Greene's new "Book of Datas" will be heartily welcomed by all ornithological and oological collectors. It will be produced in the finest possible manner on linen paper, and neatly bound in leather. We are in receipt of sample pages of the datas and they are models of neatness and convenience.